

Acknowledgements.

I would like to express my appreciation and thanks for assistance given to me during the course of my research by Monash University, and the following individuals and organizations:

Associate Professor Euan Heng and Professor Bernard Hoffert - Supervisors.

Dr. Julie Roberts and Dr. Vivien Gaston – Supervisors.

Dr. Geoff Quilley – Curator, Maritime Art, National Maritime Museum, Greenwich, United Kingdom.

Paul Cook – Paper Conservation, National Maritime Museum, Greenwich, United Kingdom.

Rosalind Stoddart – Director, Fermynwoods Contemporary Art Gallery, United Kingdom, and support from the Arts Council, England.

Matthew Shaul – Director, University of Hertfordshire Art and Design Gallery, United Kingdom.

Alex Selenitsch – architect and poet, for writing ‘Crux’ for the catalogue, ‘Which Way Is Up?’

David Malin - astronomer and photographer, (Anglo-Australian Observatory).

Zane Hammond – Magellan Observatory.

Dr. Paul Francis – astronomer, Mount Stromlo, Australian National University, (and material from Parkes and Jodrell Bank Radio Observatories).

The State Library of New South Wales - Crux Collection of Rare Maps.

NASA – National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Michel Szczepanski – Master Printer, C-Lab. Victorian College of the Arts.

Luke Coulson – multi-media technical assistant.

David Rogers – sound assistant.

George Matoulas – artists’ bookbinder, James Cowan – writer.

Mark Boyle – Frameworks.

Stephen McLaughlan Gallery.

Sarah Winfrey – fellow artist, United Kingdom exhibitions.

Peter Spear, Dr. Jonathan Spear, David Spear, Lilian Spear and Jelmer Hoekstra for continued support and understanding.